The cat (Felis catus) is a domestic species of a small carnivorous mammal.^{[1][2]} It is the only domesticated species in the family Felidae and is often referred to as the domestic cat to distinguish it from the wild members of the family.^[4] A cat can either be a house cat, a farm cat or a feral cat; the latter ranges freely and avoids human contact.^[5] Domestic cats are valued by humans for companionship and their ability to kill rodents. About 60 cat breeds are recognized by various cat registries.^[6]

The cat is similar in anatomy to the other felid species: it has a strong flexible body, quick reflexes, sharp teeth and retractable claws adapted to killing small prey. Its night vision and sense of smell are well developed. Cat communication includes vocalizations like meowing, purring, trilling, hissing, growling and grunting as well as cat-specific body language. A predator that is most active at dawn and dusk (crepuscular), the cat is a solitary hunter but a social species. It can hear sounds too faint or too high in frequency for human ears, such as those made by mice and other small mammals.^[7] Cats also secrete and perceive pheromones.^[8]

LINE HEIGHT

The screenshot shows a Figma plugin named "Golden Line" on the Figma Community page. The plugin is created by Yarik Bright and has 59 likes and 7,487 installations. The preview image shows a dark gray rectangular area with a white text box containing the text "Golden Ratio for Line Height". A horizontal blue line is positioned at the bottom of the text box, representing the golden ratio line height. Below the preview, there is a note about changing line height based on the golden ratio and a formula provided by the plugin.

Golden Ratio for Line Height

The goal of Golden Line is to adjust the height of the line based on the width of the content and the size of the text using the golden ratio

Change line height based on the Golden Ratio. Just select one or more text layers.

The formula uses the width of the text layer, the font size, and the Golden Ratio: 1.6180.
